Welcome to Transportation Camp 2020!

TransportationCamp is an unconference bringing together transportation professionals, technologists, and others interested in the intersection of urban transportation and technology. While traditionally an in-person event, this year we are bringing TransportationCamp NYC 2020 online on Saturday, October 17th!

TransportationCamp is an unconference - every session is planned, proposed, and led by attendees like you. It’s the perfect opportunity to share your transportation passion with a diverse gathering of fellow enthusiasts. TransportationCamp NYC 2020 will continue to foster open conversation and collaboration between all parties interested in mobility and the radical changes the near-future promises in transportation.

TransportationCamp welcomes all attendees, whether you’re a planner, software developer, engineer, student, transportation professional, community member, policy maker, or just excited about mobility. Join us virtually for TransportationCamp NYC 2020!
What’s an “Unconference”?

This is not a traditional conference. The session topics and activities are suggested by the attendees. In addition to talks and presentations from big names in transportation and technology, TransportationCamp provides an opportunity for every attendee to be a participant in shaping and leading the event. Be prepared to get involved and meet people.

Sessions may come in a variety of formats: birds-of-a-feather, lightning talks, open space technology, pecha kucha, and others.

Major themes reflect the backgrounds and interests of the participants. You’ll find sessions about technology, policy issues, urban planning, and more.
Keynote Speaker

Meera Joshi, General Manager and Principal of Sam Schwartz, is a global transportation leader with wide-ranging experience navigating technological and regulatory change. Previously she led the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC), where she spearheaded novel regulations, resolving challenges brought on by the rapid growth of rideshare services while simultaneously enhancing passengers’ safe access. Under her tenure, NYC mandated the reporting of granular trip data from large app operators like Uber and Lyft. Much of this information is now publicly available and an invaluable asset for transportation planners. She also developed the regulatory framework that protects the wages of the city’s 80,000+ app drivers, a global first which now serves as a model for other jurisdictions. Markedly improving transportation for wheelchairs users, she led the nation’s largest accessibility initiative, providing passengers with new on demand accessible reliable travel options. Before being appointed Commissioner, she served as TLC’s Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs and as an executive manager at NYC’s Civilian Complaint Review Board and Department of Investigation with oversight over the New York City Police and Corrections departments. Meera was a visiting scholar at NYU’s Rudin Center for Transportation Policy and is currently a member of Remix’s Advisory Board.

Social at Gather Town

Gather Town is a video-calling experience that lets multiple people hold separate conversations in a parallel channel. It lets you walk in, out, and around the conversations just as easily as in real life!

Please make sure you use Google Chrome or Firefox as your web browsers when you launch TCNYC Gather Room. Gather may not be compatible with other browsers or mobile devices. A separate guide on Gather Town can be found under “Resources” from the home page.

TransportationCamp NYC Gather Town will open during:
10:00 - 10:30AM EDT - Pre-Camp Networking
1:00 - 2:00PM EDT - Lunch Session
4:00 - 5:00PM EDT - After-Camp Virtual Happy Hour
