AOCC Pre-Conference Event! Dispelling the Myth: Pacific Islander and Asian American Art & Activism

4:00pm - 7:00pm, Feb 27, Askwith Hall

For this kickoff event, we'll discuss how AAPI communities have always been part of social movements, but their identities have often been erased from history in a manner that perpetuates the model minority myth. Join us as we watch a short documentary, engage in discussion with a panel of AAPI activists, artists, and organizers, and enjoy snacks, dessert and mingling.

RIDES: Storytelling as “Council”: Connecting Across Lines of Difference
- 1:00pm - 2:15pm, Feb 28
- Gutman Conference Center 4

The practice of “council” stems from our ancestors who gathered around the first fires to share stories. This practice elicits an experience of community, recognizing that each voice carries value and every person presents a unique gift, a story to share, a piece of the whole. Council, which has been implemented in schools across the world, aims to strengthen connection across lines of difference by building an inclusive relationship based on empathy and listening. In this experiential session, you will learn about elements of council such as storytelling, circle practice, presentation of talking pieces, and the five intentions of council.
